SAN NICOLAS COMMUNITY PAPER.

Learn & Grow

Two masters of painting exchanging knowledge and admiration for each other's work.

Rasheed Lowe, a painter and muralist, a self-taught star just starting to discover the creative world and to be discovered by the public.

Fred Wijenberg, a painter, an arts scholar and already enjoying attention from far-away countries.

The language is the same, so they connect! And then you learn and you grow.

Island Fest Has NO San Nicolas Identity

Imagine the joy of the San Nicolas community when they heard a new event is coming, bigger and better than Carubbian, after years of its absence. The feeling of “Feel, Taste, experience San Nicolas” is so important to the San Nicolas Community, however this is not the case with Island Fest. We are not getting the chance to show what the real San Nicolas have to offer, it has just become a FOOD FESTIVAL instead of an ISLAND FEST. This event feels like it’s being forced on the San Nicolas community like “Take This And Like It!” Not even including the San Nicolas Community or talent, even if this event will be moving around the island please use that area’s talents you are in and show the respect to that part of the island. San Nicolas have so much talent: Dance Groups, Steal pan school that can show their talents, San Nicolas Bands, Poets, and so much more. The only way this event can grow is to include their people.

San Nicolas Live Longer With Fresh Seafood Secret

When you see the older generation living to 90 or even 100 years of age, first thing that comes to mind is WAWWW, however if you sit and talk to them and ask what's their secret to long life? They will tell you eat fresh food like having your own garden, and fresh seafood. Nothing against going to the supermarket and getting that frozen fish that has been there for over a year, but we are surrounded by the ocean, and we should use what we have been blessed with. One of San Nicolas secret is that everyday between the hours of 5pm to 5:45pm at different piers you can just wait until the fishermen come in and get your fresh fish, or any other seafood they were blessed with. The pier you can go get these are: Rodgers Beach, Surfing bananas(cura cabay pier) Zeerover pier. The fishermen also cleans the fish for you so you can just hop out your car and straight to your stove or grill. Give it a try, because there is nothing like fresh food.

Did San Nicolas Loose Baby Beach With New Resort?

When the community heard that the green light was given to start to build a Resort in the colony, mixed feelings was going in the minds of the people, while some are so happy, other feel that they have lost their pride and joy Baby Beach. Every beach on the island is public, however the locals always give the beaches in front of the resorts the space so that the tourist can go and enjoy, and the locals go the beaches with no hotel to be able to chill and relax with family, and friends. With 900 rooms coming there will be a big difference, as we know that the selling point for that resort was our Baby beach. Some protested to save the area however “money talks” like the older heads always say.

Gift

The greatest gift you can give someone is...

To feel heard, not to respond but to understand,

To feel appreciated, not because they achieved a certain requirement but, because the social requirements don't matter as much as they do,

To express their own way of being, without being compared to others,

To feel loved, not for personal gain but, because love is pure,

To remove the words; crazy, weird, strange and others, and replace them with unique,

To breathe and to actually feel the breath of fresh air,

The greatest gift you can give someone is.. freedom.

San Nicolas Business Association meets Three River Estate Developers..

San Nicolas, Aruba. Last Wednesday, June 26th the board of the SNBA met with the developers of the Future Baby Beach Hotel by an invitation extended from the Minister of Infrastructure and Environment, Mr. Otmar Oduber, at the historical monument the Nicolaas Store in very heart of San Nicolas. Also present was the director of the DIP (department of Infrastructure) and other department officials.

It was a meet and greet opportunity combined with a presentation by the hotel developers and management team. The presentation was quite extensive and we learned the hotel will consist of 900 rooms total, phase one(1) will consist of 600 rooms dedicated to couples, and the 2nd phase dedicated to family. A total 3 restaurants, two huge infinity pools, a complete gym and a 4000m2 conference room. The architecture would reflect the environment with some spectacular views of the baby beach, all to be constructed on the clip.

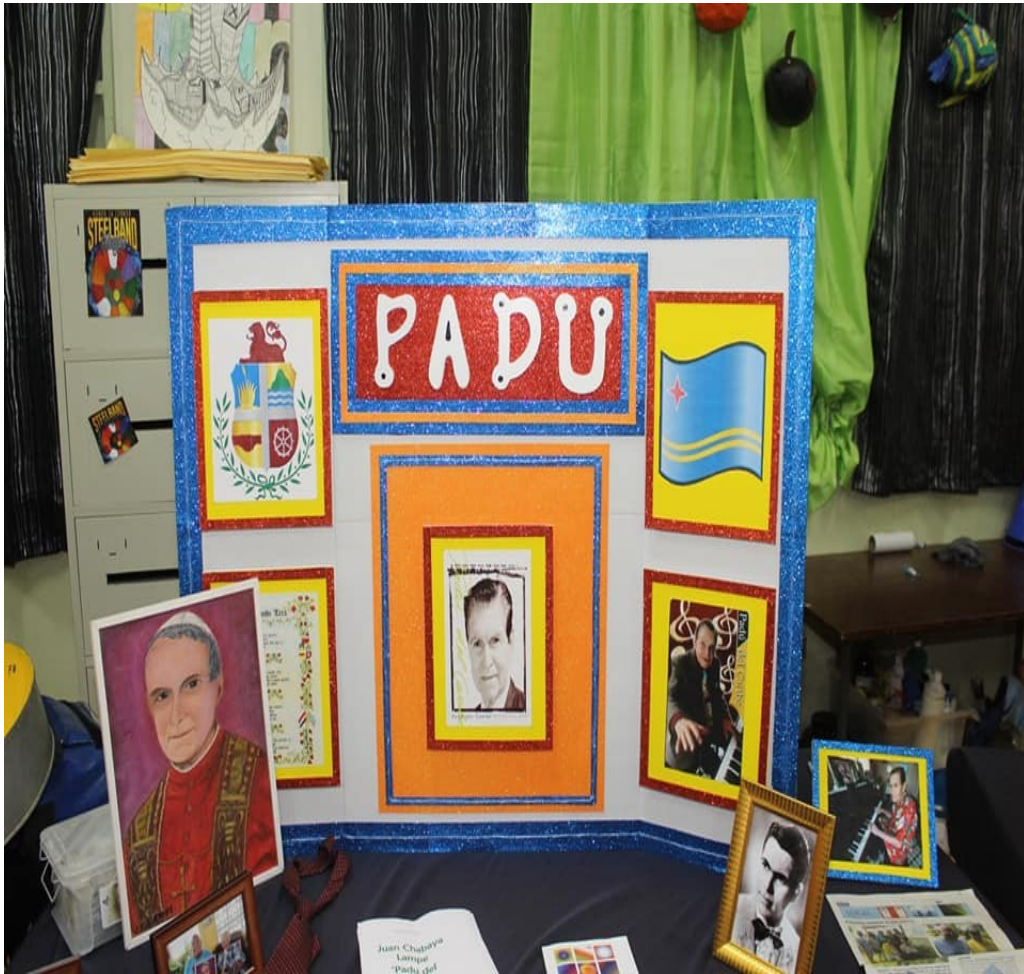

The minister and the developer promised that there would be no shopping facilities on the hotel premises and idea was to motivate the guests to dine around and shop in San Nicolas. The board of the SNBA was very pleased with the Q&A and the one on one opportunities and that the developers. There will be a continuation several followup meetings with the hotel developer, the government of Aruba and the SNBA to address a number of important issues on several areas of this project, because will continue to be a part of all these developments.
